

Verification of existing microchip M1

This form must be filled out by veterinarians and authorised identifiers to verify the microchip number of an animal which is already microchipped, as required under the Companion Animals Act 1998. Pet owners must take the completed form to council.

You must be over 18 years of age to legally own a cat or dog in NSW.

This form does not register a pet – give council a completed Pet registration (R2) form and pay the fee to officially register your pet.

Please fill out this form in blue or black pen and in BLOCK LETTERS

Veterinarians, authorised identifiers and owners should keep a copy of this form for their own records.

Information for veterinarians and authorised identifiers

A pet owner may ask you to verify their pet's microchip number using this form when they have moved to NSW from interstate or overseas. This allows them to then register their pet on the NSW Pet Registry. You may also need to fill out this form if a pet's microchip number has been recorded incorrectly on the NSW Pet Registry and must be changed.

It is the pet owner's responsibility to take this completed form to council for processing.

Information for pet owners

Use this form if you have moved to NSW from interstate or overseas. Once your pet's microchip is verified, you can register them on the NSW Pet Registry. Submit this form and a statutory declaration to your local council for processing. A statutory declaration must include:

- your name and address
- the pet's microchip number
- the details of how you came to own the pet, which you are declaring to be true
- your signature and the signature of an authorised witness (this can be a Justice of the Peace (JP), a legal practitioner or a notary public)
- the date and location where the declaration was made.

You may also use this form if your pet's microchip number has been recorded incorrectly on the NSW Pet Registry.

You can save time by updating pet ownership details online on the NSW Pet Registry. Create a profile and manage important pet ownership tasks at petregistry.olg.nsw.gov.au.
