Question 1

I've had a look through the detail plans and have not been able to find some information needed to quote. It would be great if I could get some details for the fence post installation regarding depth and diameter for post holes.?

Please see attached Bluedog assembly guide.

There's no corner post assembly shown, but Bluedog have sent the following:-

There is no CAD drawing to accompany this change of direction bracket (Splay) in our CrowdTuff/ChildSure fencing systems.

Note - If the change of direction at the end of a run is 90 degrees, then a normal bracket would suffice still

Info as below pertaining to our Splay bracket

Splay bracket	To suit changes of direction in the fence. Attaches the 40x40mm rail of the panel to the post.	2 per panel
